About the High Country Jazz Festival

The inaugural 2022 High Country Jazz Festival is a collaborative project to host exceptional and engaging jazz experiences in Boone and Blowing Rock while raising funds to support the arts, education and civic programs of the Appalachian Theatre, Boone Sunrise Rotary, and Jazz Studies Program at the Hayes School of Music.

Sponsored by Explore Boone and Mast General Store, the five-day festival will feature eleven events hosted by ten regional organizations in Boone and Blowing Rock with headliner events taking place inside the newly reopened Appalachian Theatre and under the stars at the Chetola Resort. Festival events are anticipated to run June 8-12, 2022.

The scope of the festival is both intimate and engaging with indoor and outdoor concerts, late night jams, cozy jazz lunches, classic film and jazz talks hosted by the Jazz Studies Program of the Hayes School of Music, Appalachian Theatre, Blowing Rock Art & History Museum, Casa Rustica Restaurant, Chetola Resort, High Country Jazz Society, Lost Province, Ransom Pub and Town of Boone. The App Theatre is handling single ticket sales for ticketed festival events.
